2. Nominated Dependant(s)

You may nominate that your death benefit be paid to a Dependant or your estate. Dependant means a legal or de facto spouse, a child of any age or another person who was wholly or partly dependent on the Member at the time of the Member's death. You should not nominate anyone who does not satisfy these requirements as the Trustee can generally only pay death benefits to a Member's Dependant or the estate. You may nominate someone, who does not satisfy these requirements, ONLY if you do not have any Dependents or legal personal representative (i.e. estate). If there are no Dependents or estate, the Trustee may pay the death benefit to certain relatives or other people. You should take into account any taxation consequences in completing your nomination.

I nominate the following Dependents to receive the benefit payable in the event of my death.

I acknowledge that the Trustee has absolute discretion to determine to whom the benefit is paid, including the proportion(s).

Beneficiary	Address	Relationship	Proportion (%)
			100%

3. Declaration

I request that in the event of my death the Trustee pay my death benefit as set out in section 2 of this form. However, I understand that the Trustee has sole discretion in the determination and proportion of benefits payable.
